

We at the climate protection organization MYBLUEPLANET are looking for immediately or by agreement

Volunteer Project Manager ClimateLab Lugano

Do you care about effective climate protection? Do you like organizing and putting together events lasting two days including acquiring the participants? Are you good in the interaction with young and motivated people and do you know how to turn motivation into action? Would you like to learn more about concrete climate protection or pass on your knowledge to the next generation? Then you've come to the right place!

Who we are

MYBLUEPLANET is an independent Swiss climate protection movement and non-profit organization founded in Winterthur in 2007. We inspire people to contribute to climate protection. Together we look for creative and practical ways and implement them with concrete projects to reduce CO₂. You can find more information about us on our website www.myblueplanet.ch.
